Location:
St Etienne, France
Year: 2012

WHY IS THIS A GOOD EXAMPLE?

Different atmospheres come together, with a space created like a urban living room. One of these rooms has been imagined as a space reserved for games to support playful activities such as gymnastics, climbing, and swinging. The area has no fences, and is really an open public square.

DESCRIPTION

The area has a tree lined path housing a marketplace, from which user friendly quiet spaces can be accessed. An “urban living room”, a room for dancing, a room for playing, and a room for resting are all in site.
